

Sailfish Legacies

History's echoes reverberate up from the past
So many intertwined souls
Securing humanity's future
Together bound by the same path
Bound by a tube of steel.

Striving to consecrate freedom
So much
For so many
Who will never know what they did
Bound by a tube of steel.

They stir to remind our prodigy
Of struggles and strife's
Some obvious some not
What sacrifices consecrate freedom thru time
Bound by a tube of steel.

Many wishing to toil yet again
Not to polish up a pretty bauble
But for those still on eternal patrol
That they mattered
To bind legacy forward by a tube of steel.
